

THE FAIR DINKUM ANZAC CROSSWORD

Clues Across

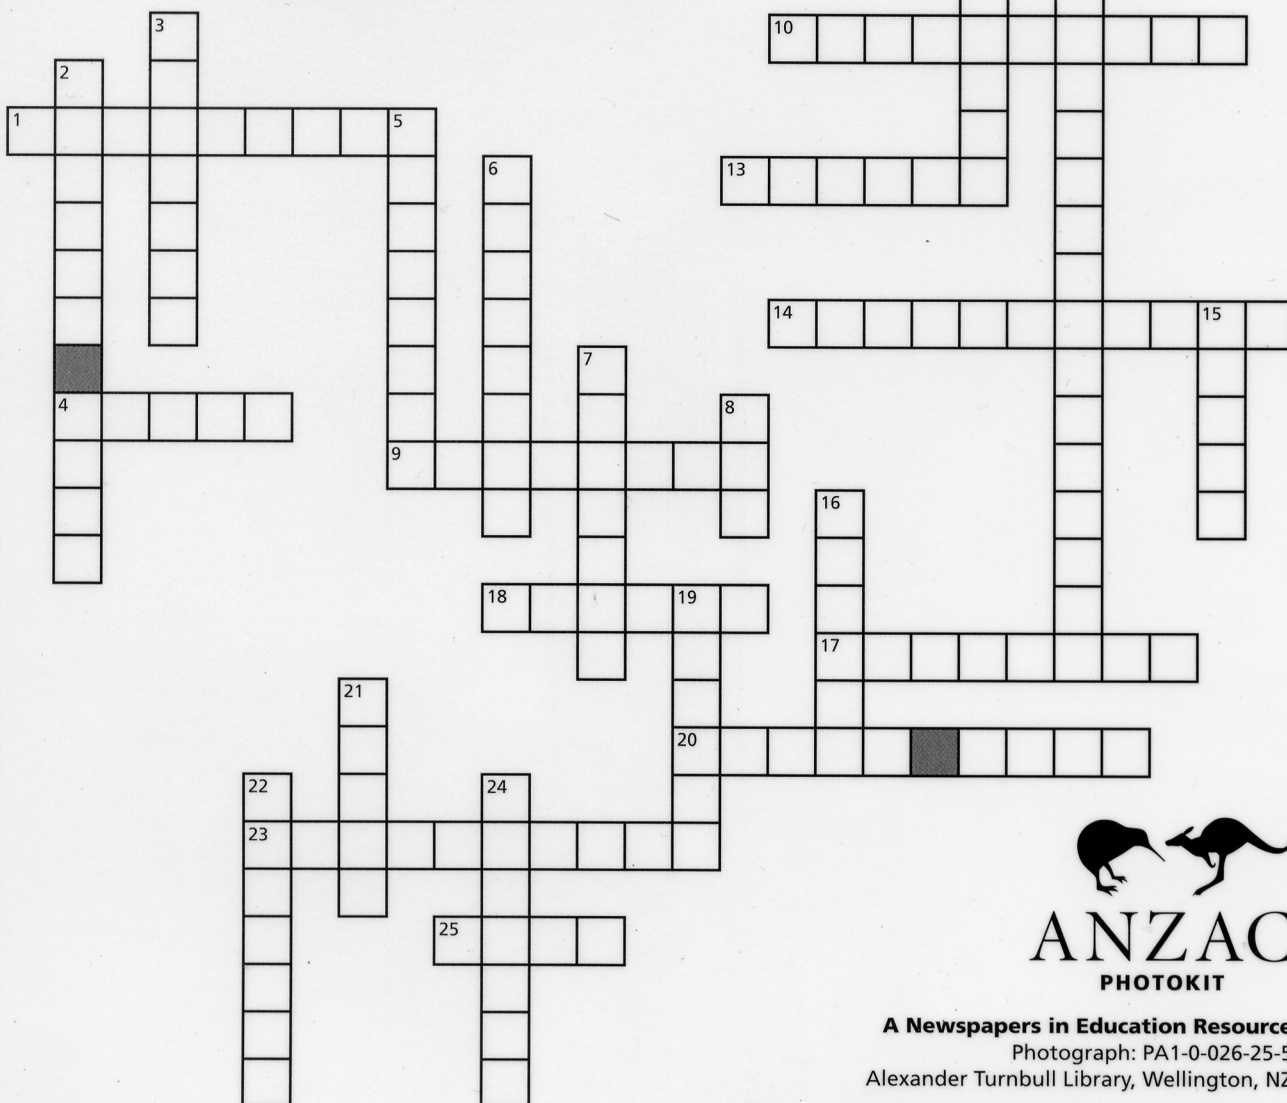

- The New Zealand soldiers told their wives and girlfriends they'd be home by _____.
- The instrument that The Last Post, Reveille and Rouse are played on.
- The Anzacs having a swim at Anzac Cove had to watch out for these fragments of bombs & bullets.
- This is the word for removing the troops from the battle area.
- The country where Gallipoli and Anzac Cove are.
- The name of the strait of water by Gallipoli.
- A medal awarded for bravery was the _____ Cross.
- The narrow ditch an Anzac fought, slept and ate in when on duty.
- The tinned meat that the soldiers didn't like much.
- Gallipoli slang for machine gun fire; it must have sounded like writing on one.
- The name for a "biscuit as hard as a brick" that could even be used as a missile!

Clues Down

- The Anzacs fought long and hard to take this hill, but it was retaken by the Turks.
- The Anzacs fought on the side of Great _____.
- They were used to line the dugouts and trenches. You can see them on the photo of this card.
- The poppies from the famous poem by John McCrae grew in these fields.
- Flowers that grew well on the disturbed soil of the trenches and craters of battle fields.
- According to the Anzac dedication, those soldiers who have died will not grow _____.
- Murphy's donkey.
- Murphy's job.
- The Anzacs were first sent to this country for training before going to Gallipoli.
- The photo shows a New Zealand soldier with a "banjo". What is this Gallipoli slang for?
- What a friend was called by the Anzacs.
- The last word that the letters of Anzac stands for.
- The name of the Turkish leader.
- They are laid at cenotaphs on Anzac Day.

Give yourself a point for each right answer for your score out of 25. The answers are inside the cover of the kit.

MY SCORE =

ANZAC PHOTOKIT

A Newspapers in Education Resource
Photograph: PA1-0-026-25-5
Alexander Turnbull Library, Wellington, NZ